Reporting questionnaire

Gender equality indicator 1: Gender composition of workforce

This indicator seeks information about the gender composition of relevant employers in a standardised format, to enable the aggregation of data across and within industries. The aggregated data in your workplace profile assists relevant employers in understanding the characteristics of their workforce, including in relation to occupational segregation, the position of women and men in management within their industry or sector, and patterns of potentially insecure employment.

NB. IMPORTANT:

- References to the Act mean the Workplace Gender Equality Act 2012.
- A formal 'policy' and/or 'formal strategy' in this questionnaire refers to formal policies and/or strategies that are either standalone or contained within another formal policy/formal strategy.
- Data provided in this reporting questionnaire covers the TOTAL reporting period from 1 April 2018 to 31 March 2019. (This differs from the workplace profile data which is taken at a point-in-time during the reporting period).
- Answers need to reflect ALL organisations covered in this report.
- If you select "NO, Insufficient resources/expertise" to any option, this may cover human or financial resources.

Fixed-term contract part-time employees	0	0	0	0
Casual employees	0	0	0	2

1.13 If your organisation would like to provide additional information relating to gender equality indicator 1, please do so below.

We are continuing the focus on our 2018 initiatives: • Reviewed the language used in all job advertisement of positions to ensure we are using gender neutral and/or female aligned language to maximise the attraction of candidates and to more clearly demonstrate our female friendly workplaces. • Actively promoting those benefits that research has told us are important to women in the workforce such as flexibility and additional leave provisions. • Utilisation of images and profiles in recruitment branding that highlights females in our workforce to demonstrate our genuine commitment to raising the profile of women in our male dominated professions. One area that we particularly utilise these strategies is in our early careers recruitment to support female applicants to our graduate and intern positions. • Expansion of our Structured Mentoring Program as a result of a successful pilot in our Program Management Function which is a critical talent segment within the business. A formal evaluation of the pilot program determined its effectiveness from a retention and engagement perspective. • Further, we mandated mentoring support as a key requirement for all identified high potential employees as a 2018 and ongoing regional talent initiative.

Gender equality indicator 2: Gender composition of governing bodies

Gender composition of governing bodies is an indicator of gender equality at the highest level of organisational leadership and decision-making. This gender equality indicator seeks information on the representation of women and men on governing bodies.

The term “governing body” in relation to a relevant employer is broad and depends on the nature of your organisation. It can mean the board of directors, trustees, committee of management, council or other governing authority of the employer.

2. The organisation(s) you are reporting on will have a governing body. In the Act, governing body is defined as “the board of directors, trustees, committee of management, council or other governing authority of the employer”. This question relates to the highest governing body for your Australian entity, even if it is located overseas.

2.1 Please answer the following questions relating to each governing body covered in this report.

Note: If this report covers more than one organisation, the questions below will be repeated for each organisation before proceeding to question 2.2.

If your organisation’s governing body is the same as your parent entity’s, you will need to add your organisation’s name BUT the numerical details of your parent entity’s governing body.

2.1a.1 Organisation name?

Lockheed Martin Australia

2.1b.1 How many Chairs on this governing body?

	Female	Male
Number	0	1

2.1c.1 How many other members are on this governing body (excluding the Chair/s)?

	Female	Male
Number	2	11

2.1d.1 Has a target been set to increase the representation of women on this governing body?

- Yes
- No (you may specify why a target has not been set)
 - Governing body/board has gender balance (e.g. 40% women/40% men/20% either)
 - Currently under development, please enter date this is due to be completed
 - Insufficient resources/expertise
 - Do not have control over governing body/board appointments (provide details why):
 - Not a priority
 - Other (provide details):
 Candidates for the Board are regularly evaluated based on the evolution of the business

2.1g.1 Are you reporting on any other organisations in this report?

- Yes
- No

2.2 Do you have a formal selection policy and/or formal selection strategy for governing body members for ALL organisations covered in this report?

- Yes (select all applicable answers)
 - Policy
 - Strategy
- No (you may specify why no formal selection policy or formal selection strategy is in place)
 - In place for some governing bodies

- Currently under development, please enter date this is due to be completed
- Insufficient resources/expertise
- Do not have control over governing body appointments (provide details why)
- Not a priority
- Other (provide details):
Consultative process

2.3 Does your organisation operate as a partnership structure (i.e. select NO if your organisation is an “incorporated” entity - Pty Ltd, Ltd or Inc; or an “unincorporated” entity)?

- Yes
- No

2.5 If your organisation would like to provide additional information relating to gender equality indicator 2, please do so below.

Gender equality indicator 3: Equal remuneration between women and men

Equal remuneration between women and men is a key component of improving women’s economic security and progressing gender equality.

3. Do you have a formal policy and/or formal strategy on remuneration generally?

4.2 If your organisation would like to provide additional information relating to gender equality indicator 3, please do so below:

Gender equality indicator 4: Flexible working and support for employees with family and caring responsibilities

This indicator will enable the collection and use of information from relevant employers about the availability and utility of employment terms, conditions and practices relating to flexible working arrangements for employees and to working arrangements supporting employees with family or caring responsibilities. One aim of this indicator is to improve the capacity of women and men to combine paid work and family or caring responsibilities through such arrangements. The achievement of this goal is fundamental to gender equality and to maximising Australia's skilled workforce.

Lockheed Martin recognises the need and benefit of creating an inclusive, flexible and supporting workplace for those with caring responsibilities and diverse requirements. As such we are working towards a more consistent and accepted understanding of what flexible work arrangement such as job share, alternate work patterns, telecommuting and purchased leave mean to the engagement of the workforce. Additionally, we are reviewing our parental leave processes with the aim to build programs which allow men and women to focus on new parental responsibilities whilst remaining engaged with the organisation and supported in their career aspirations. At present, individual requirements for flexible working practices are assessed based on specific circumstances, duration of flexibility, nature of work and other unique factors; requests are supported as much as practicable. Effective this reporting period, the business will be changing its work schedule to a nine day fortnight. This will become the standard work schedule and employees will be able to discuss with their leader should they wish to consider any other alternate arrangements

17.1 If your organisation would like to provide additional information relating to gender equality indicator 6, please do so below:

In March 2019, Lockheed Martin ran an internal Women in Leadership Conference in Canberra. The theme for the event was 'Balance for Better'. Lockheed Martin believes 'Balance' is not just a women's issue, it's a business issue. The purpose of the event was to encourage women to pursue meaningful careers at Lockheed Martin and promote leadership pathways within the organisation. The speakers came from various business entities both internally and externally from LM and shared with us their journey and how their roles support the achievement of business objectives. We had 73 people attend from across the Asia Pacific region. Additional initiatives include:

- Lockheed Martin Australia have an Internal Mentorship Pilot with an initial focus on Program Management as a key skill area. The Program is being formally evaluated to ascertain the impact on retention, engagement and development with a view to expand in later 2019 to further areas.
- All high potential employees, inclusive of high potential women, have a formal mentor as part of the LM Talent Management approach to engagement and development acceleration.
- All LM leadership programs - the Emerging Leaders Program, the Leadership Fundamentals and the Mid-Level Leader Programs have Inclusive leadership as a core module / key theme that is woven through the Programs.
- All leaders across the organisation participated in Inclusive Dialogues, a series of vignettes with discussion points and is a leader led program.
- Voicing our Values – all employees across the organisation participated in a one-hour face-to-face program combining ethics and diversity dialogues. Participants watch a video and learn how to reframe the issue to better manage a complex situation pertaining to ethics and/or inclusion
